

Lehigh and Penn Wrestlers Tie.
Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., March 14.—Wrestlers representing the University of Pennsylvania and Lehigh battled to a tie here to-night, each team getting 16½ points. There were two falls, two decisions, and three draws. Four bouts went into extra periods. Lehigh lost a good chance to win the meet when in the 158-pound class Sawtelle, who had the better of his man for four minutes, slipped in trying to work a hip and bullock hold, Milligan falling on top and getting the decision. Dorizas, the Greek, won his bout in the unlimited class, but McCarthy managed to hold him off for three minutes. After chasing McCarthy all over the mat for two minutes, Dorizas got a good body hold, lifting his 190-pound opponent and dropping him to the mat where with a chancery and arm hold he quickly pinned the shoulders of the Lehigh man to the mat. The 115-pound event went to Kirkhoff of Lehigh, who, after four minutes of careful wrestling, had Kopcke in distress and finally caught him napping, a head scissors and arm hold doing the trick.

The New York Times

Published: March 15, 1914

Copyright © The New York Times